Let's Start!

Welcome back! Let's catch up at the party!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe plans for the organization of events.

Ask your partner:

- What did you do yesterday?
- What did you do last week?
- What did you do last month?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about food and celebrations.
- I can talk or report about things, actions and events.
- I can make and respond to requests.

Let's Explore!

John and Peter are catching up at a welcome home party.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- John: Hey Peter! It's great to see you!
Peter: Yeah, it's been a while. What was it like working on a cruise ship?
John: We worked hard, but we had some free time to explore.
Peter: Can you tell me what your favorite port was?
John: I loved Mexico. We went all the way down Baja California to Cabo San Lucas, then to Mazatlan and Puerto Vallarta.
Peter: Can you describe the food for me?
John: Absolutely! Mexican food is mostly spicy. It's often served with tacos.
Peter: What are real tacos like?
John: Tacos are a round, soft circle. You can put almost anything into a taco, like meat, shrimp or cooked vegetables. My favorite is a taco with pork and pineapple called Pastor.
Peter: Could you make me some tacos?
John: Sure!

Let's Practice!

Peter makes a few requests. What does he say?

Instructions: Draw a line from the first part of the statement on the left to the second part on the right.

Learning Points

Making and Responding to Simple Requests

You often make simple requests by asking a question with the modals can or could followed by a verb.

You can respond to requests with expressions.

Making Requests	Responding to Requests
Can you describe the food for me?	Absolutely!
Could you make me some tacos?	Sure, I'd love to!
Can you help me for a second?	No problem!

The Simple Past Tense

When you talk about things, actions or events in the past, you use the Simple Past tense.

To form the Simple Past tense, you add -d or -ed to regular verbs like worked, or change the verb for irregular verbs like went.

Examples:

- We worked hard, but we had some free time to explore.
- I loved Mexico.
- We went all the way down to Baja, California.
