Let's Start!

I have amazing news for you!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- Would you like to have a promotion? Why or why not?
- What would a promotion look like for you?
- What new responsibilities would you have?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can talk about things, actions and events in the future.
- I can ask people to talk slowly.

Let's Explore!

Peter got a promotion! Can he spell the word?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

John: Hello?
Peter: Hey John! Guess what? I have amazing news for you!
John: Slow down, Peter! Did you win a million dollars?
Peter: No!
John: Are you joining the Peace Corps?
Peter: No! I got a promotion at MechaTech!
John: You? A promotion!
Peter: Yes! Starting Monday, I'll do educational outreach at the company. I'll create documents and post them on social media. I'll use a computer to update the company website and ...
John: Could you slow down, please?
Peter: Sorry! I'll be responsible for company communications. How cool is that?
John: Ummm ... Peter ... You have difficulty spelling words, remember?
Peter: I know, but I'll use spellcheck. I'll also consult a dictionary when I need to.
John: OK! Good luck with that!

Let's Practice!

Peter is excited! Why?

Learning Points

Asking Someone to Slow Down

When you ask someone to speak slowly, it is important to be polite.

Here are some phrases you can use to ask someone to speak slowing.

Examples:

- Slow down, please!
- Speak slowly please, Miss/Sir.
- Again, slower please, Miss/Sir.
- Would you mind speaking slower?
- You are speaking very fast. Could you slow down, please?

The Future Tense

You use the Future tense to talk about actions in the future.

The auxiliary will goes before the verb. The short form is 'll.

You use the Future tense when you talk about intentions, make offers or make predictions.

Examples:

- Starting Monday, I'll do educational outreach at the company.
- I'll write blogs and articles for the website.
